Contains a thorough instructional text, 122 explicit self-study lessons, 5 appendices and over 150 practice sheets. For use with standard writing tools, including pencil, pens and fine-pointed markers.

Written by Master Penman Michael Sull with the assistance of Debra Sull, American Cursive Handwriting brings back the traditional methods of learning how to write beautiful cursive penmanship as it was taught for over 60 years. As America's foremost living Spencerian penman, author of Spencerian Script and Ornamental Penmanship and Learning to Write Spencerian Script, and publisher of numerous educational materials on vintage American handwriting, Michael Sull is recognized internationally as a leader in handwriting instruction.

For over 30 years he has conducted countless handwriting programs in the United States and abroad. Widely known for his skill and teaching ability, he shares his knowledge and experience in a personal way throughout this text. His unique perspective, as a veteran penman and penmanship instructor, brings this subject to the reader in an easy-to-understand, practical manner. In page after page, he re-acquaints us with the traditional practice of study and exercise without contemporary letter modifications, calligraphic trends in style or short cuts.

Spencerian Saga: the Penmanship Poetry of Michael Sull

It all began in the late 1979's when 90 year-old Master Penman Paul O'Hara explained to his new student, Michael Sull, what it was like to live in the age before typewriters. During the 1 1/2 years that Michael trained under the veteran penman's tutelage, his mentor shared much about his own past from those fabled times of seventy years before. He spoke reverently of his writing masters; about their integrity as teachers, their passion for handwriting, and their phenomenal skill with a pen. And throughout all of his recollections, there were the penmanship stories and legends from that magical time. In Michael's words: "...tales re-told by penmen of old as if read from a dusty page."

Paul O'Hara passed away in 1990 at the age of 101. Since that time, Michael has crafted the stories into ballad forms of verse; a style of poetry where the metered rhyme-scheme carries the recitation along with emphasis, interest, and a sense of personal empathy. For the past 25 years, Michael has shared these poems at his workshops in America and abroad through his narrations. All the poems focus on America's Golden Age of Penmanship and the joy of putting pen to paper. In 2011 he published them in a single volume entitled "Poems of a Penman."

Over time, many of his students have encouraged Michael to record his narration of the poems for the preservation of the stories, as well as for the enjoyment of the listener. With the help of Joel Johnson from Paydirt Productions, cover illustrations by Pat Daley, and selections from his twin brother Chuck Sull's 12-string guitar CD, "Requiem for the Wolfhound", Michael completed the recordings. "Spencerian Saga: the Penmanship Poetry of Michael Sull" is a 2-disc set with a total running time of 2 hours.
